

Femme Fest

FEMME FEST HEADLINERS HOSTING NEW YEAR'S DAY LIVESTREAM

To start the year off with female empowerment in excitement of the music festival's return NEW YORK, DECEMBER 1, 2021-- Femme Fest, a NYC music festival co-founded in 2017 by Kennedy Kutz and Julia Sylvain, is celebrating its March 25-27, 2022, return to Randall's Park with headliners Billie Eilish, Ariana Grande and Beyoncé hosting a one-night New Year's Day virtual livestream. The 8-10 pm EST event will be streamed on Twitch.tv/FemmeFest featuring discussion about the festival, its theme of female empowerment and performances by the artists.

In addition to singing unreleased content for fans, the three hosts will be giving away prizes to attendees, who are also able to write and chat with the artists. Livestream tickets are $5 and can be purchased internationally on Femme Fest's website: www.femmefest.com/stream.

"This is an exciting event because of the exclusive content and collective discussion with world-famous artists," said Founder Kennedy Kutz. "We also can't wait to hear unreleased music and raise the energy for our 2022 festival return."

For more information, visit www.femmefest.com.

Femme Fest is a music festival giving space for both known and new female artists to share their empowering voices in front of a diverse audience, providing music and a message.

#

Media Contact:

Emily Stevens

emily.stevens@femmefest.com

516.293.0048